VICE - CHANCELLOR

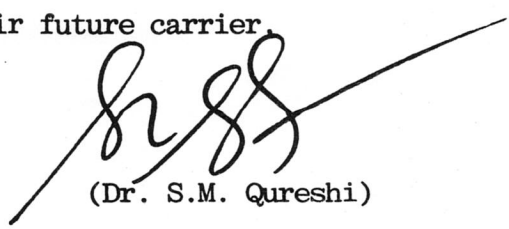

M E S S A G E

It gives me great pleasure to learn that the students of the Final Year Engineering (1979-80 batch) are issuing a Souvenir on the eve of completion of their studies at this University, which will contain their happy memories during the days of their 4 years stay at this institution.

This is a happy tradition which though laid many years ago is being continued so enthusiastically by this group of young men and women, this year too. While this publication will remind them of their good time together, it is no less a sign of healthy activity and their mind while studying in this institution, which provides them an exclusive place, so this University, in view of the deteriorating environment of the educational institution in general.

I am sure that these young ones will take their profession and practical life also seriously as well as joyfully, and do service to the society to be best of their ability and will prove to be highly responsible citizens of the Country with high moral and intellectual values.

I wish them great success in their future carrier.

MESSAGE

I am very pleased to learn that the Final Year Students of Civil Engineering Department, Mehran University of Engineering & Technology, Jamshoro are bringing out a Souvenir on the occasion of completing their studies in the department, inspite of choking atmosphere all around. It is a noble undertaking for which the promotors and participants deserve all commendation.

This is the first batch of MEHRANIANS who are graduating in Civil Engineering from Jamshoro after this institution was upgraded to the University level. I had the privilage to teach them and be associated with them in one way or another throughout their stay in the department. I am proud of my association with these students as a teacher and as a Chairman. It is my fervent hope that the department of Civil Engineering will continue to grow and progress and attain the position of excellence with the dynamic participation and dedicated effort of the Faculty and will prove to be an asset to the nation in bringing up the standard of Civil Engineering in the Country.

On this occasion I would like to give a word of advice to my students. The time has come for you to enter the realms of practical life where you have to practice what was acquired and learned during your long stay in the department. Civil Engineers have to play a pivotal role in almost all the developmental programmes in the country both in urban and rural areas. You have to become symbols of service and service to humanity should be your oath. Love for others should be your motto. Let dignity of Labour be your objective and making other people happy your aim. This is how you can be singled out as MEHRANIANS any time, anywhere in the world.

I am told that the present document carries in it few scattered thoughts of the students, and all the happy memories have been treasured for ever in this Souvenir. Students have shown great determination by proving their worth and all credit entirely goes to students. I hope their efforts will not lose charm in finishing this publication but will provide an excellent example for those who like to share in well being of students and our institution. I strongly believe that their effort will go long way in ornamenting Civil Engineering Department with luminary tinctures.

I am sure, the Souvenir which is undoubtedly a humble attempt to capture the memories of the students of the department will serve as a document of remembrance for their entire period of stay in the University.

I extend my felicitation to the promotors and organizers of this Souvenir and wish them all success. I also wish all the students good luck and pray for their success in every healthy sphere of life.

From Editors' Desk

It was a cloudy day, returning from university we were attracted by Sindhu. Sitting on Sindhu's bank at Al-Manzar, we felt that time is just like waves of Sindhu, suddenly rising and setting in a glance. We recalled our memories of past, the golden days we were in school and then in college. I talked about my friends who were with me in little school of my native village. "Where are they?" I thought; "Where will be we, who are here in Mehran?" I asked. "How we friends, who have passed "5" best years of our life in same institution, in same class room, can find each other after leaving Mehran?" we asked to one another. Then suddenly a word came in our minds — 'Directory' — and today it is in your hands.

In bringing out this Souvenir-cum-Directory, what we have sacrificed? Our time, our studies, our final year examination. And what return we have got?—not a single penny from university, unnumbered difficulties in collecting advertisements, discouragement by owns, enmity by others and disappointment. But our desire and intention never allowed us to be dsiconsolate and by the grace of Almighty and co-operation of our colleagues this issue is infront of you.

To what extent, we have succeeded in our efforts, you are the best judges. We have tried our best to publish this unique Souvenir without any discrepancy, but "To err is human" and you may find any error in this issue, but we hope you will neglect it, considering the fact that this type of Souvenir is first ever of its kind in the history of Mehran.

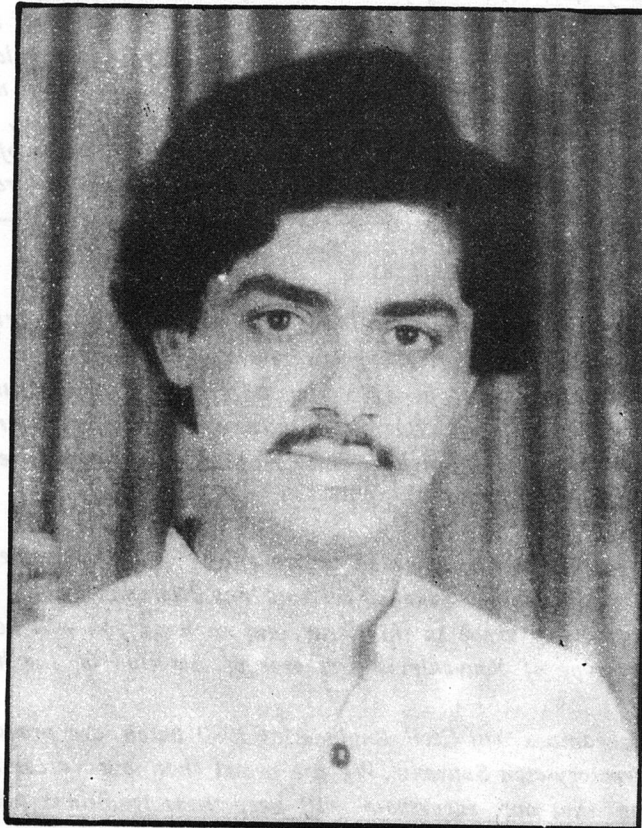

We all "Mehranians" of Civil Engineering 1980 batch are proud to be the pioneers for this kind of Directory-cum Souvenir. We are proud that our class is an innovator in Mehran and we hope that our successors will keep those traditions alive which we have established in Mehran inspite of suffocating atmosphere all around.

Our foremost and pleasant duty is to thank Dr. A. A. Abro for his unstinted encouragement & guidance. We are thankfull for his sentiments about us, we on behalf of all our colleagues, sincerely promise that we will(inshallah) prove ourselves, the best Engineers and symbol of service to humanity so that every one will wish to be a "Mehranian"

A LETTER TO 80 CE

Dear Friends,

It is now the time to bid you farewell with mixed feeling of pleasure and sorrows. Pleasure in sense that we have graduated and become Engineers, and sorrows in the sense that we are separating.

How far we have succeeded in our studies to become Engineers, you are the best judges and jury, Truly speaking we have gained a lot from our teachers, whom really I feel more than they are my teachers.

The period of 4 years was quite sufficient for me to adjust my self to live like a local sindhi man I am proud to mention the hopitality, co-operation of you Sindhi friends to teach me sweet Sindhi language and make me a "Sindhi Arab" as you call me. I am so happy to graduate from Mehran along with so nice friends but at the same time I am very much sad to lave Mehran and Mehranians.

In the end I would like to mention the dedicated effort of the organisers to work selflessly in bringing out this marvellous and memorable souvenir.

Finally, I wish you all a sincere success with my best congratulations on this occasion.

AH! A GENIUS

It looks as if it was an incident of yesterday when I first saw him. He was a man with dynamic personality. A short, handsome man with few hair added with a fair complexion, glassion and beautiful dress. This completed the personality of a man, who was respected by all quarters of university. He was a man with such a dignified personality that at first instance every-body used to be impressed by him.

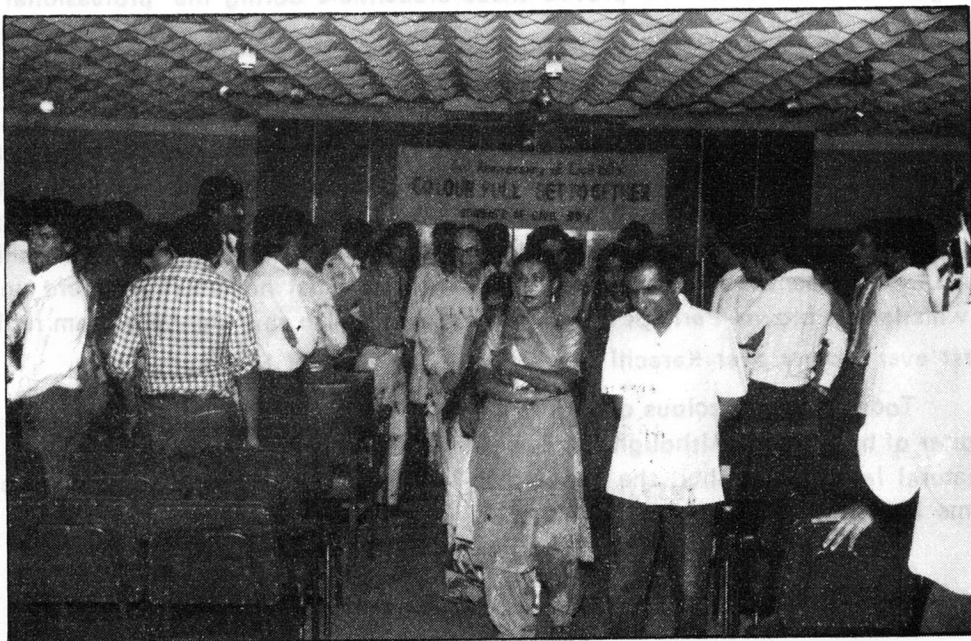

He was a simple but dignified person. Kind hearted but strict to the principles, jolly but well behaved. Yes, he was Dr. Agha Imtiaz Ali Pathan, the pioneer of Architecture in Mehran. Dr. Sahib was the first Chairman of Architecture department and remained at this post till his departure from this world. He was not only an efficient Civil Engineer, a creative Architect, an amiable and audacious teacher, but was also a very good administrator. He proved these credentials during his professional life of mere 17 years.

Dr. Sahib never restricted himself to the academic life only, as he was a very social person and every time honoured the get together functions of my class, which showed his love for the class. He was also a staunch supporter of sports. I came to know about this fact during our Hockey match with Karachi University in the inter 'versity Hockey Championship at Tando jam, just before the commencement of play, a Toyota Corolla stopped from which Dr. sahib and Mr. Mohammed Ali Qureshi Sahib came out. His keenness can be gauged from the fact that he remained there untill the final whistle was blown. Perhaps it was his presence which saw Mehran's team registering its first ever victory over Karachi University in the field of Hockey.

Today this auspicious occasion is devoid of an aver charming figure, an ardent supporter of humanity. Although Dr. Sahib is no more among us, his soul has proved the natural law of mortality, the genius has left his great name, something which has become immortal.

Cry of Soul

Shah Latif says:

- * Almighty God, let it not be
that in bondage die
Enchained my body night and day:
doth weep in misery
O let me first my homeland see
and then my days let end.
- * The lovely peacocks all are dead,
and not one swan I see
Instead the crafty snipes ah me have here their homeland made.
- * O mountain, that does stand between my love and me, they threat is vain —
Had there a thousand mountains been my longing would have crossed them all.
- * O God let me not clever be,
clever ones sorrows see—
Loved one all favours did to me
when I was simpleton.
- * As smith a link with link both join to let it ever last,
So loved one fixed me up, and fast
He holds me ever more!

R. C. C. SLEEPERS IN PAKISTAN

The shortage of wooden sleepers which originally framed the bulk of railway tracks on world railways, has gradually been felt in most of advanced countries except some e. g. Australia, Canada, U. S. A. which still bound in forest wealth. In prepartition period N. W. Railway banking upon the produce of Kashmir, Nepal & C. P. forests could afford to maintain over 30% of its track with wooden sleepers.

Owing to paucity of both wood & steel in Pakistan it was not long after the partition that the attention of the Railway engineers was diverted to words the indigenous production of satisfactory type of R. C. C. Sleepers. Because since independence sleepers had to be largely imported with the result that availability of wooden sleepers had been scarce on account of limited availability of their world over & due to foreign-exchange limitation. The total number of over age sleepers assessed for the period June, 1975 on the Railway had been about 6.44 millions and would increase to 7.55 millions in 1985.

In this back ground the engineers of Pakistan Railway were trying to make a good design of R. C. C. sleepers, they were studying various types of sleepers which were frequently used in France & Germany.

In 1950-1951 in Bridge Factory Jhelum R. C. C. Sleepers were made on the trial basis. The various designs of R. C. C. sleepers were made and were tested on various sections, and after this more designs were made in 1955 to 1961.

After the experiments & testing the various designs R. C. C. sleepers, the Board of Pakistan Railway passed the two designs of R. C. C. sleepers.

- (1) Twin block Sleepers.
- (2) Prestressed concrete sleepers (P.S.C)

For making the production on large scale the Government took interest to make new factories of R. C. C. sleepers. The first plant was set up in Jhelum, for production of 20,000 to 25,000 sleepers per year & its production was increase in 1983 upto 1,00,000 sleepers per year. To improve conditions of the track four other factories (for PSC and twin block Sleepers) were also setup in 1980-1981-1982 at Kotri, Shahnabad, Khat Kiridhor (Baluchistan) & the average production of these factories were 150,000 pre stressed concrete Sleepers per year per factory and 1,00,000 twin block sleepers per year per factory.

PROPERTIES OF CONCRETE SLEEPERS.

Concrete sleepers have a long life which under normal conditions is not likely to be less than 40 years. Their weight helps considerably in the prevalent tendency to minimise joint maintenance by using long lengths of welded rails, the greater weight confirms the advantages of greater stability of track. This increased stability which is good for track with normal rail lengths, becomes essential where rail is welded in long lengths are used. The added weight enables the rails to resist effectively forces caused by expansion due to temperature increase which tend to buckle the track.

(1) R. C. C. TWIN BLOCK SLEEPERS.

In this type two blocks of the sleepers are designed to transmit the vertical loads on the subgrade with positive movement at the rail seat. Tie bar essentially rigid however provides some degree of flexibility also. A minimum degree of stiffness and specific deflection under load without damage is usually covered by stipulating maximum deflection. These sleepers are therefore suitable for such beds which would give certain amount of differential settlement due to less ballast cushion and weak formation.

The twin block sleepers have, however advantage regarding economic cost, use of ordinary port land cement, weight and easier maintenance etc.

According to rule based on various consideration twin block sleepers are used on those sections where the maximum permissible speed is presently limited upto 100 km/hour and the average gross tonnage on the section does not exceed 25000 tons per day. This will however cater for further increase of speed and density and traffic in the near future.

The strength of concrete in this type of sleeper is 4000 to 4500 lbs/sq inch with ordinary portland cement as described in B.S.S. 12. These sleepers are brought on the section and then manually fitted with rails.

(2) Pre stressed mono block concrete Sleepers (P.S.C.).

The shape of mono block P.S.C. sleeper is designed to suit the bearing capacity of sub grade and the structural strength to adequately withstand the vertical loads. In this sleeper the 10 number of twin and two single wires of 2" dia in all 22 of high tension steel are used for pre stressing.

This type of sleepers are used for high speed main line tracks. According to rule of Pakistan Railway "on the main line section where the speed is presently limited upto 120 km/hour but likely to be increased to 145 km /hour and gross tonnage on the section exceeding 25000 tons per day are to be provided with pre stressed mono block sleepers". In these sleepers the initial strength of concrete before pre stressing 400 kg/cm² and the average total weight of one sleeper is 504 lbs in which 20 lbs of high tensile wires of 2" dia are used. The fitting of this type of sleepers with rails are usually done in assembly yard by mechanical process where panels are made and then panels are brought at site and laid on ground by gentry crane or whelen crane in this method lot of time is saved.

Both types of R.C.C. sleepers i.e. twin block and mono block prestressed concrete sleepers are commonly used through out the Pakistan due to its durability, strength and other properties which are proved to be economical than wooden and steel sleepers.

SHAH ABDUL LATIF BHITAI

Shah Latif-the great poet of Sindh is undoubtedly the person who can undisputedly have claimed to command profound love and respect of every Sindhi knowing individual man or woman, old or young and scholar or illiterate. His message of love, fraternity and expounding man's relations to his creator and his mother land is unique in its sublimity.

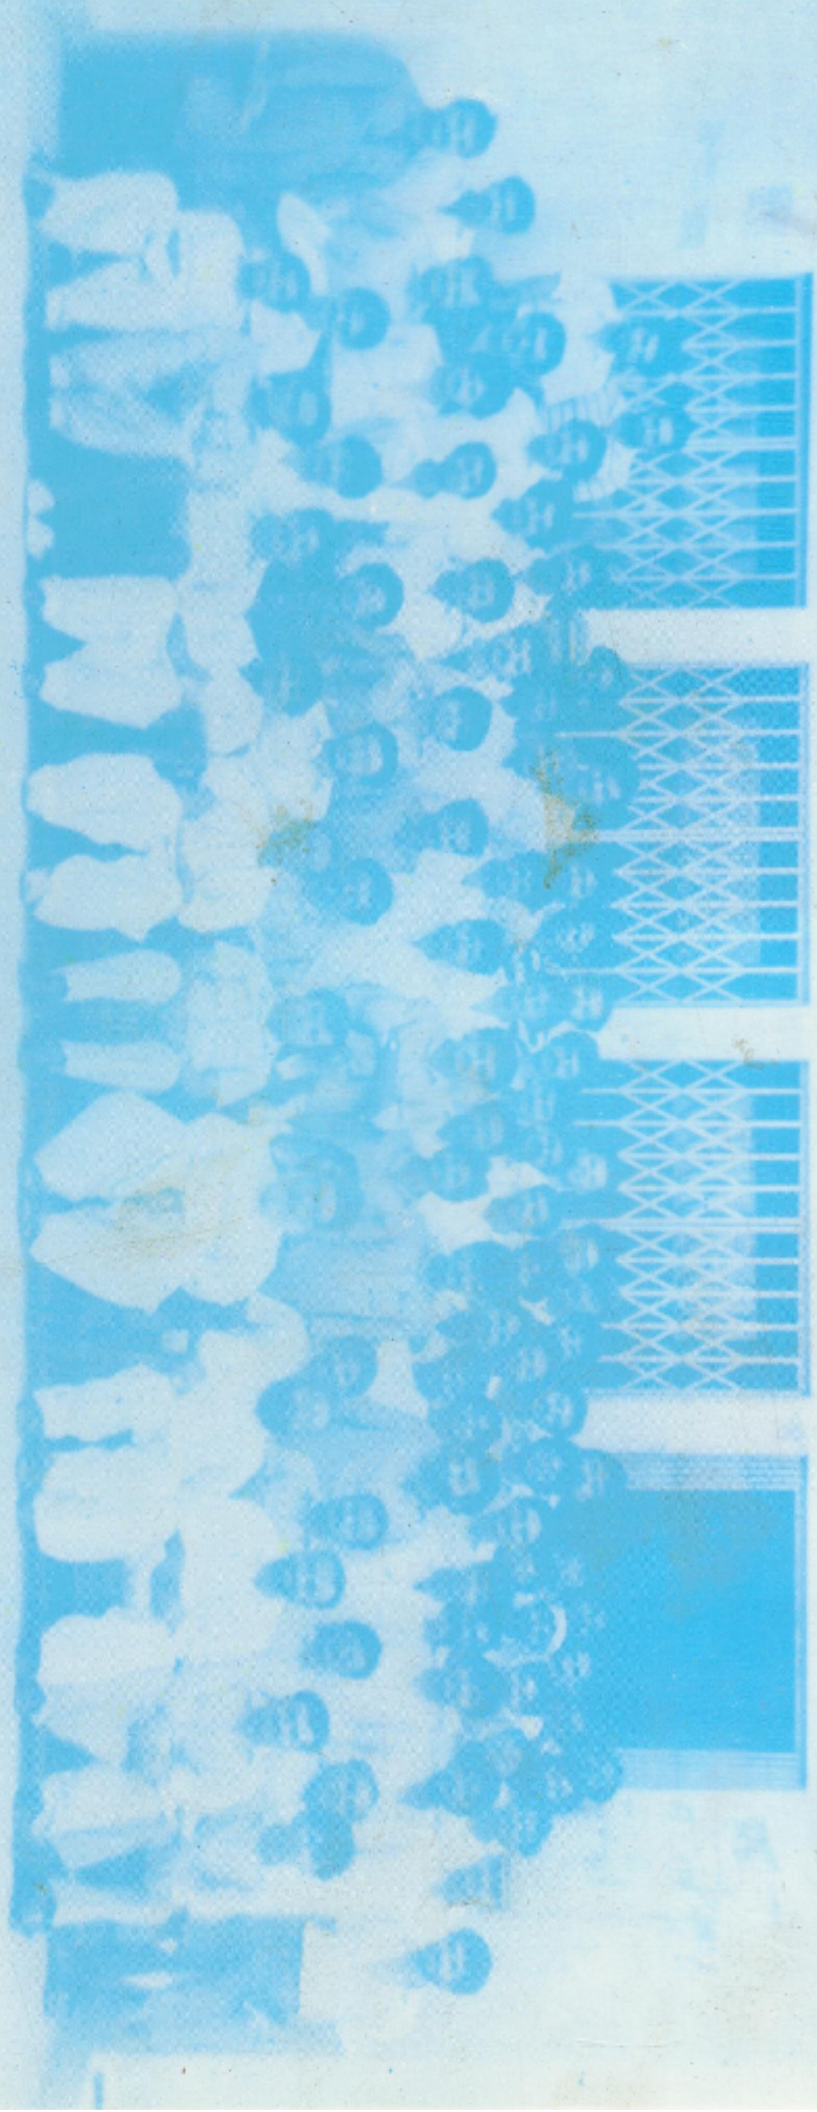

Unfortunately Shah Latif's message has remained in oblivion for the people not knowing Sindhi, mainly due to language barrier. More pathetic, it is the fact that no serious and organised attempt has so far been made to popularise what could be called the most precious asset of Sindhi language-Shah Jo Risalo. Apart from some selection translated in English by esteemed scholar poet, H. T. Sorely and Mrs. Elsa Kazi, and a rather liberal presentation in Urdu by Shaikh Ayaz, no attempt has ever been made to translate the complete Risalo in English and other international languages. Recently however, few selections have been translated in Arabic but there remains a long time way to go.

In addition to the aforesaid pitiable indifference on the part of scholars and poets of Sindh so far as the translation of Risalo in other languages is concerned, Shah Latif's transcendental poetry has been victim of narrow minded, mundane and parochial interpretation by those for whom religion is an opium.

We hold Latif, with due respect and reverence to others as the greatest mystic poet of the world whose poetry not only seeks inspiration from the deep insight in Quran and Sunnah but is at the same time, most vivid interpretation of the same two beacons of light for finding the path of righteousness and thus salvation in the life hereafter.

Shah Says:

So many, many line the banks,
Sahar Sahar they cry,
Afraid some to risk life and some,
Renouncingly would die,
But Sahar meets, who with out sigh,
Joyfully waters seek.
